

Chapter 379

The clearer knows herself, what she didn't do, she naturally didn't want to take on anything, so she could only go to the construction site with them to see who was at fault!

The entire design department took a bus in the company and went directly to the construction site.

On the way, my colleagues attacked Suzi with a single glance at me.

"When you are a junior, you can be a junior, can you not come to the company to harm others in the future?"

"I can tell you the shame! Then it will be your fault, and you will be responsible for it alone. Do you think the construction project is a job? Maybe it will kill people and go to jail!

Can you afford the responsibility? "

"If you can't afford it, you have to lose! Don't try to run away!"

"You said where you can't seduce men, you just went to our construction company to seduce men, do you think our architectural design company is blind?"

Along the way, when you say a word to me, they almost point to Suzi's nose and scold Suzi. Suzi can also tell that the design department actually has more men than women. Originally, the work of architectural design was done by men. Many, there are only four or five women in a car, but Suzi is all women scolding her.

Those male colleagues didn't say much, but a few men looked at Suzi with sympathy.

Suzi knew that these women were actually jealous of her these days.

I was jealous that she attracted Shao Jun as soon as she joined the company. She was jealous of her dealing with Rayna in a tit-for-tat manner. What's more jealous is that she came to the company in Mr. Jun's car this morning.

Those women are probably thinking in their hearts that if the things that went wrong on the construction site this time are attributed to her Suzi, Master Jun will definitely make Suzi unable to eat.

Faced with so many accusations against her, Suzi didn't fight back with anyone.

She didn't have time to think about the things she said right now, she just wanted to see which part of Linda's copywriting she had proofread was wrong. In fact, all the flaws in Linda's copywriting can be compensated.

If it really couldn't make up for it, Suzi would also bring it up at the time.

Unknowingly, the car also drove to the construction site.

This is a real estate that has been built but has not been renovated.

As soon as Suzi entered the door, he thought of what went wrong.

"Linda!" Suzi yelled confidently.

"Why, now I know that I was wrong, do you want to admit it to me? It's too late! You are solely responsible for all the mistakes here today!" Linda said unreasonably.

Suzi sneered: "When I came to this real estate, I thought it was your copy. I reminded you about this copy. I asked you if you want me to review your design draft. You said no! Because I was at that time. I can see that there is a problem with your artwork."

Linda: "At this time, you are spitting blood! Suzi, you are so vicious!"

Suzi was very calm: "Is it in your computer, or in my computer. I can bring up the archive of the artwork in your computer and the archive of the artwork in my computer, and compare it with the current construction plan. You can know, I know you will definitely say that the design artwork in my computer was touched by me. I'm sorry Linda. My archive is a read-only file copied from you. The date on it is still on the company's signature. Yes, I didn't move."

Linda: "..."

Everyone present: "..."

Seeing Linda's face getting paler and paler, Suzi quietly said, "I have a way to make up for this mistake."

Chapter 380

As soon as Suzi's words were uttered, everyone present was surprised.

A woman who didn't speak very much and was suspended for a week after only two days when she first came to work, said she could make up for it?

"Suzi, you don't want to attack you because of Linda, you can be a big man. You should not talk nonsense about architecture!" Even the fair design director is dissatisfied with Suzi.

Suzi said neither humble nor arrogant: "I have conditions to solve this problem."

Design Director: "..."

Suzi looked at Linda again: "Linda, the contents of your computer and the contents of my computer can prove that I have not touched your drawings at all, so I am helping you deal with this problem to help you solve the problem."

Trouble, I want to ask if you personally pay me or the company pays me, you negotiate, okay?"

Linda said incoherently: "You...you still want to be paid, you...how much do you want!"

"One hundred thousand!" Suzi said plainly.

People present: "..."

"Your lion speaks loudly!" Linda roared.

"Do you know how big your loss will be if this mistake is not resolved?" Suzi asked.

Linda: "..."

Of course she knew.

If this mistake is not resolved, she will not only take full responsibility, she may even lose her job in the future, not only will she lose her job, and she will be unlikely to get involved in the architectural design industry in the future.

To put it bluntly, this matter depends on her.

In the past, Linda used to proofread the materials by herself, and she had no problems when proofreading her own materials, so she just threw the most recent materials to Suzi for proofreading.

Maybe it's because Linda has seen Suzi not pleasing to her eyes these days. She actually gave some of her unmodified design drawings to Suzi. When Suzi finished proofreading and then returned it to her, she forgot to have a few design patterns. She hasn't had time to modify it.

With so many years of design experience, Linda felt that there shouldn't be any problems, but she didn't expect the problem to come in just a week. Linda can foresee many problems, and can also make changes in advance. But Linda is just a designer, she has very little on-the-spot practical experience.

So when the problem comes up, Linda can't find a solution.

But Suzi is different.

Suzi has been an engineer who has worked on the construction site for many years. There will be unexpected surprises in the process of constructing a construction site. When such unexpected emergence, he must find ways to make up for it.

And Linda's problem now is just a trivial matter.

"Then you say, how to solve it, if it can be solved well, I..." Linda looked back at the design director.

Let her pay one hundred thousand yuan personally?

She is in a little pain.

But if the company really counts this mistake on Linda, Linda can only admit it himself, and now it is mainly about holding on to the importance of work.

The design director said in a very serious and condemned tone: "Linda! You can't shirk this mistake. Of course, Suzi's request is to be borne by you. Even so, you still have to write a review when you return to the company! The company gives you This kind of disposal is already open to you.
